

Weekly Hay Report September 12

Prices were steady this week for Premium and Supreme hay while Good and Fair prices were around $5 per ton lower. Most of the dairies are still on the sidelines waiting for last cutting. Cattle producers are waiting as grass remains good in most areas and they want to see if they can't get prices to ease just a little more before buying their needs. The export market this week is just a little slow as the buyers for now don't want to be aggressive until they see more business.

This week we have Supreme hay at $330, Premium $310, Good $290 and Fair $270
